Court Approves American Woman's Suit

Granted Custody Of Girl Left In Poland

WARSAW (AP) — A court today awarded Mrs. Monika Bozyk, a naturalized American, custody of the daughter she left behind in Poland during World War II. But the child could not be found.

"Olga has gone away to the country," said a member of the family that has cared for the 13-year-old girl since 1944. "We shall continue to look after her until the appeal is heard."

The Ostrowski family of Warsaw has been battling Mrs. Bozyk's petition to take her daughter Olga to her home in Rochester, N.Y., to live. Mrs. Bozyk abandoned Olga and is not a fit mother. Mrs. Bozyk charged that the Ostrowskis turned Olga against her. Olga has said she wants to remain here with the Ostrowskis.

The three-judge Warsaw court ruled the child must be united with the mother immediately, although Olga cannot be taken from Poland until the decision is confirmed in an appeals court procedure in 14 days.

During the trial the child said she loved her Polish foster family and hated Mr. and Mrs. Bozyk. The Bozyks turned Olga over to Mrs. Irena Ostrowski, now a widow of 1944. Two grown sons of Mrs. Ostrowski and an adult daughter live with them in a poor section of Warsaw.

Mrs. Bozyk, who turned 46 today, said she and her husband made their way to the United States from a forced labor camp in Austria after the war and were unable to take the child. She said she returned to Poland under an assumed name in 1946 to get the child but Mrs. Ostrowski threatened to denounce her to the Communist authorities and she fled.

6 Are Injured In Road Crashes

Lisbon Youths Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Six persons were injured Friday in four auto accidents which occurred on area roads. Four were arrested.

Mrs. Bernice Wise, 47, of Youngstown, is in fair condition in that city's South Side hospital with possible fractures of the back and right arm received when she was involved in a mishap with an auto operated by Earl Mathey, 24, of Leetonia, on Rt. 164, at the Western Reserve Rd. Junction, Friday at 3:15 p.m.

State highway patrolmen said the accident took place when Mathey's southbound car couldn't avoid hitting Mrs. Wise's northbound auto as he was passing another vehicle at the crest of a hill. Mathey, treated at South Side hospital for abrasions of the left hand, was arrested for reckless operation.

Two Lisbon teenagers were injured this morning at 8 a.m. when the car in which they were riding went off the side of the road and struck a utility pole on Rt. 164, five miles north of Lisbon. The driver, George L. Ramsey Jr., 18, is in fair condition in Salem City Hospital with contusions and abrasions of the face and a possible fractured skull. His passenger, Beverly Ann Novak, 17, is in good condition with possible fractured ankles.

State patrolmen said Ramsey fell asleep at the wheel. He was cited for reckless operation.

Paul McCoy, 22, of East Palestine, was fined $50 for reckless operation by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville after he lost control of his car and struck a guard rail on Rt. 14, one mile east of Salem, Friday at 9:45 p.m. He suffered lacerations of the lower lip.

Jesse R. Green, 27, of Alliance, was treated at the Alliance City Hospital for lacerations of the right eye and forehead after his car hit a guard rail on Rt. 30, one mile east of Minerva, at 10:45 p.m. Friday. He was cited for reckless operation.

Democrats Soft Pedal Civil Rights Issue

Concentrate Attack On Monetary Policies Of Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats soft pedaled the controversial civil rights issue today to concentrate their attack on monetary and other policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Party bigwigs, meeting here for three days of strategy sessions and a fund-raising dinner, sought to avoid any clash over civil rights—which have strained Democratic ties in the past.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said the Republicans had inaugurated "the greatest manipulation of interest rates and credit the world has ever seen."

Patman, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said in his remarks prepared for a round table discussion with Democratic governors.

In another talk prepared for the same meeting, Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said the Republicans were giving only "grudging recognition" to the problem presented in 19 major areas where he said unemployment is above 5 per cent, despite general national prosperity.

He said the Eisenhower administration has made only "an inadequate, half-hearted attempt" to combat chronic unemployment.

A scattering of Democratic governors gathered for a party conference preceding a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here tonight. Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 and 1956 presidential nominee, and former President Truman were scheduled as feature speakers.

Democratic officials hope to raise upwards of $150,000 from the dinner, with the proceeds to be applied to reducing the party's deficit. Party treasurer Matthew McCloskey reported Friday the deficit has jumped to $660,000. He said state organizations have not been meeting their financial quotas.

The party's national committee adopted in sessions Friday a set of rules under which its controversial advisory council — of which Stevenson and Truman are members — will be free to make statements of party policy.

Southern committee members, who resent the council's previous endorsement of civil rights legislation, sought unsuccessfully to strip the council of this power. But the national committee voted down 65-26 a proposal by Democrat Grover Jr., a Georgia member, to make the council's statements subject to review by the full committee.

Democratic congressional leaders have made no secret of their coolness toward the 23-member advisory council. But Butler said the vote indicated the national committee wanted the group to have a free hand.

Fire Destroys House, Shed Near Elkton

LISBON — A home and a small shed were completely destroyed Friday evening on the Fairmont Road, about a mile northeast of Elkton.

The buildings were owned by Edward and Helen Hough of Youngstown. Paul Kamper lived alone in the house.

All the furniture of the Clark Boyer family was in the shed and was destroyed. The Boyers were to have moved into the house as soon as Kamper departed.

Lisbon volunteer firemen responded to the call, but both the house and the shed were destroyed before they arrived. They stood by to prevent a nearby barn from catching fire.

The Houghs purchased the land and the buildings for $2,500 after the land had been stripped of coal.

Oiling of Dirt Streets In City Is Planned

The grading and oiling of dirt streets in the city will commence May 15, Mayor Dean Crammer said today.

Residents wanting streets oiled in front of their homes must make application with the city service department not later than that date. People should make their deposits, based on a per foot frontage cost, with City Clerk Robert Rheutan.

The city service department hopes to complete the street oiling program by June 1.

NATO Nations to Meet Attack With 'A' Arms

Follows Rejection of Merger Plans

County Board Asks For State Survey

A resolution was drawn up by the Columbiana County Board of Education last night urging the Ohio Department of Education and the State Board of Education to conduct an impartial survey of the complete Columbiana County School System "as quickly as possible because some of our eight-year districts are in poor financial condition and will need help before September."

A supplementary letter to be attached to the resolution will explain the facets of opposition to the mergers of United and West Districts and the Salineville, Wayne, Yellow Creek and Franklin Township Districts. James L. McBride, county schools superintendent, will write the letter.

School Merger Meeting Held

Board, Public Talk At Franklin Session

The formation of citizens committees in the various districts affected by the recent school mergers was urged as a path leading from a "state of confusion" in Columbiana County, at a public meeting last night at Franklin School in Summitville.

The gymnasium auditorium at the school was jammed with residents of all the districts involved in the two mergers, enacted by the Columbiana County Board of Education April 16.

The mergers, now invalid, included consolidation of the United-West districts and a jointure of Salineville, Wayne, Yellow Creek, and Franklin Townships. The Hillcrest area in Yellow Creek, near Wellsville, had been transferred to Wellsville.

Clarence Wetzel, state representative, explained the proposed House and Senate bills now up for consideration which will aid school districts.

3 Board Members Attend

Three members of the county school board, as well as J. L. McBride, county superintendent, answered questions from the stage. Ben Weingart, Ronald Hoopes and Freeman Strabley were the county board members appearing.

Robert Walker of Adena, the district's representative of the State Board of Education, also spoke.

At a meeting in Lisbon Monday, Walker said he "strongly urged" an impartial survey of the Columbiana County school system.

However, at last night's meeting Walker reminded the group that "although the survey has been requested," the actual completion of such a survey "is contingent upon us getting enough money and adequate departmental help."

Peter Johnson of Summitville presided during the session, commenting that "the meeting tonight was called to get the people from all the areas here to find out" the situation as to whether the mergers would be advantageous or not.

Johnson said that he believed people should urge their respective school boards to form committees from each area to study the problem.

"The consolidations would be a good thing," John Baker of Salineville said.

At the same time, the county board last night rescinded its April 16 action of the two mergers because of the county board's failure to advertise the merger within the legal time limit. The Hillcrest area of Yellow Creek Township, transferred to Wellsville, automatically comes back into the county system following the rescinding order.

According to section 3311.27 of Ohio General Code, a county board "shall cause any resolution adopted by such board to be published in one newspaper of general circulation in the territory affected, once each week for two consecutive weeks and such publication shall be completed not later than the third Saturday following the adoption by the board of such resolution."

The third Saturday is today. Legal notice of the southern district merger was ordered by McBride for April 30 and Tuesday, May 7, in the East Liverpool Review; and the same insertion order was made to The Salem News in the United-West merger.

The failure of proper procedure was revealed Tuesday in an injunction suit filed by Peter R. Johnson of Summitville.

Ronald Hoopes, county board member, suggested the remonstrance petitions movement and opposition to the merger, and the fact that the board failed to advertise properly, be inserted in the resolution to the state "to help get the state department here as quickly as possible."

McBride said informing the state groups that opposition had occurred "would only scare them (the state) from coming in."

It was decided then to add a supplementary letter explaining the remonstrance and other facets.

Blessing In Disguise

The legal mistake "may be a blessing in disguise," Ben Weingart, board president, told the board members. "If we can get the state board, the state department or whoever has the power to come in and survey the district, it will do away with hard feelings . . . going on in our county."

Weingart emphasized that he thought a survey of the county school situation was a necessity; and suggested sending a resolution to the state board and state department.

"Let's throw it into the laps of the state department and state board," Weingart said. "At least we have done all we could do . . . tried to get them (eight-year districts) into 12-year districts . . . it is not the fault of this board," adding that the board had re-

Iron Curtain, 10 Tragic Years Separate Family

CHICAGO (AP) — The Iron Curtain and 10 tragic years during which he believed his wife and children were dead, separated a former Yugoslav army colonel and his family today.

There seemed little hope they would ever be reunited. But the love of the man, Dusan Bulatovich, and the woman, Dziana, burned bright as ever.

Their story came out in Superior Court Friday.

Bulatovich, during World War II, was informed by underground sources in 1944 that his wife and their children Zorka, Ssetozar and Snetislav — had been killed by Yugoslav Communists.

He fled the country and later, in Germany, married Elizabeth

Wendering, now 37. They came to the United States in 1952.

Meantime, Dziana also had remarried in Yugoslavia in the belief Dusan was dead. But in 1954 she met Bulatovich's parents. They told her of his whereabouts.

Dziana wrote Dusan, reporting the children were alive. The day the letter was received, he separated from his second wife. Meantime, Dziana began an attempt to divorce her second husband.

Bulatovich had his second marriage annulled Friday.

Dusan said he would be unable to return to Yugoslavia to reclaim his family because of his war record against the Communists. His wife and children are unable to leave Yugoslavia.

14 Cities Are Affected By New Election Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen cities will save money on their primary elections next Tuesday because of a new law.

Reports to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown show that an even dozen will have city-wide Republican primaries only, because Democratic candidates for municipal offices lack opposition, except for councilmen in one or more wards.

The other two—Niles and Salem—will have city-wide Democratic primaries only, because Republicans there have contests only for ward councilmen.

The law enacted by the 1955 Legislature allows municipalities to forego city-wide primaries of the party whose candidates have opposition only in races for ward councilmen.

The judges are John C. Nichols, Lynn B. Griffith and Elmer T. Phillips.

Miss Szkola, ousted June 30, 1956 from her job by the Board of Health, brought suit this year to regain her position and back pay. Judge Joel H. Sharp ruled Feb. 2 that Miss Szkola was protected by civil service laws and therefore entitled to the position from which she was dismissed.

The board of health subsequently appealed the judge's ruling.

Girl Takes Stand In Murder Trial

LISBON — Raymond Porter, charged with the Nov. 16 fatal shooting of Joseph Mumford, East Liverpool special officer, heard his girl friend, Mrs. Ina Danner, 18, testify in a crowded court room Friday afternoon that Special Officer Mumford was "just a friend" prior to his murder.

Porter, 22, is charged with slaying the officer and wounding Mrs. Danner at her home in East Liverpool where she roomed.

Mrs. Danner, who yesterday saw Porter for the first time since the early morning shooting, was a witness for the prosecution and testified for over two hours. The prosecution is seeking a death penalty for Porter.

She also testified that she did not know Mumford was married. She said Mumford had walked her home on occasions and had one or two times come to the house where she roomed to have coffee. She will go on the stand again Monday.

Declaration Is Answer To Red Threats

Foreign Ministers Of Atlantic Allies Conclude Meeting

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Atlantic allies declaration that they will meet any aggression with nuclear-backed might was expected today to bring new onslaughts from Russia and from political opponents in their own countries.

Their stand was reaffirmed Friday night in a communique which stated that NATO members stood ready to use "all available means" including nuclear weapons — against any aggressor. The statement came at the end of a two-day session of foreign ministers of the 15-nation alliance.

In a clearcut answer to the Kremlin's recent threats against atomic guided missile bases in Scandinavia, West Germany, Greece and Turkey, the communique said:

"Pending an acceptable agreement on disarmament, no power can claim the right to deny to the alliance the possession of the modern arms needed for its defense."

If Russia really fears Western defense preparations, the communique said it need only "accept a general disarmament agreement embodying effective measures of control and inspection within the framework of the proposals made on numerous occasions by the Western powers."

Touching on the explosive German question, the declaration called for early reunification of the former Reich.

The NATO council delayed a decision on the future balance of NATO armament between conventional and nuclear weapons pending a report from its military authorities.

The council reported "new elements" which promise to limit Communist expansion and subversion in the Middle East — an apparent reference to the Eisenhower doctrine and developments in Jordan where King Hussein has ousted a pro-Egyptian regime.

Observers believed the conference stand basing Western defenses largely on the deterrent of hydrogen bomb power spelled plenty of trouble for the government of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. His ruling party is campaigning for general elections next September.

Adenauer and his conservatives want to remain tightly tied with the Western allies. They feel that if they go on standing long enough against the Soviets, they eventually will free their East German kinsmen from the Red grip.

But West German Socialist leader Erich Ollenhauer wants to see his country out of the Atlantic alliance — the price he thinks Russia will accept for allowing the two Germanies to reunite.

Western Reserve School Board Chosen

A five-man board of education which will govern the newly-formed Western Reserve Local School District has been appointed by the Mahoning County Board of Education.

The district was formed in April when the Mahoning county board voted to consolidate Ellsworth, an eight-year district, and Berlin Center, a 12-year school.

Former Ellsworth board members who will assume positions on the Western Reserve Local School board are Francis Miller and Richard Truitt of Berlin Center.

The board will remain in office until an election in November when a new board will be chosen.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Prescription For Anxiety

At a luncheon recently I was sitting next to a well-known businessman. This man is big, sort of pompous and loud spoken. You wouldn't think he had ever been afraid of anything. But people sometimes reveal their innermost souls.

As we sat there he told me an interesting story. It was about a young boy in bed in a farmhouse on a dark and stormy night long ago. The winds were sighing around the old house and suddenly a clap of thunder awakened the lad. There was more rolling thunder; then lightning tore the heavens and seemed to just miss the house. Rain hurled against the window panes and ran down in streaming rivulets.

AND, ALL OF A SUDDEN, there welled up in this boy all those old primeval, deep fears of the dark and the forces of nature. He leaped from bed, ran into his mother's room and fell to his knees beside her bed, crying out in fear, "Mother, mother!"

A soft hand reached out to pat his head and a warm arm went around his neck, and a loving, reassuring voice said softly, "Don't be afraid, honey. Mommy's here. There's nothing to be afraid of. God is watching over us." Then she took him back to his bed, pulled the covers up around his neck and sat by his side stroking his cheek until he was asleep once more.

"I was that boy," the executive told me, "and I had forgotten that incident until just recently. I've been having some hard going and don't seem up to facing the decisions with which I've been troubled. They're tough ones, involving the futures of a lot of people, and I'm afraid I'm getting a little older. I'm in my fifties, you know."

"WELL," HE CONTINUED, "a short time ago I awoke in the middle of the night at our country home. There was a violent storm, with thunder, lightning and heavy rain. All of a sudden, I felt just as I had on that same kind of night years ago. That old fear crept up inside me and I actually had a strong desire to rush to my mother, to feel her arms around me, and have her comfort me so that I would know everything's going to be all right. But, of course, she's long since gone from this earth. Isn't it strange," he added, "how every now and then you want your mother?"

"Then," he went on, "I remembered what my mother said that night long ago: 'There's nothing to be afraid of. God is watching over us.' Dr. Peale, he said with an earnestness that touched me deeply, 'I want you to know that, at that very moment, I actually felt God's presence and lost my fears.'"

I looked at his face and it was like a small boy's; it was pathetic, yet it was inspiring. Just then, some other people came up to talk to us. He changed instantly and was his bluff, rather rough self once more.

BUT, YOU SEE, I know him now, and I always will. And it's all right. A man has to be a man. He can't remain a boy, even though something inside of him always wants to. The fundamental conflict of our human nature is how to master this weak, fearful, timorous child inside

AND WHAT WILL THEY FIND INSIDE?

Here's a handsome, happy family marching through the open doors of a church. But what will they find inside?

A lovely sanctuary? Perhaps. A congenial group of people? Perhaps. An inspiring sermon and beautiful music? Perhaps. All these they may possibly find inside. But here is what they will certainly find.

• A group of people banded together by a common faith for a common purpose...

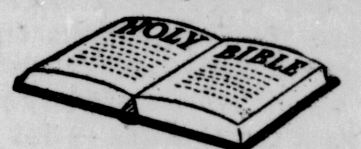

• Assurance that there is a God who cares and loves...

• Direction for the perplexities that each day brings...

• A demand to live as God would have them live...

• A cross as the divine source of faith, hope and love...

And if you go to church next Sunday, that's what YOU'LL certainly find too!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tuesday's Primaries

Democrats will choose three councilmen-at-large candidates in a city-wide Democratic primary election here Tuesday, but only a Second Ward contest will attract Republicans to the polling place in that ward.

There are no other contests.

We recommend the Democrats' re-nomination of Fred W. (Ike) Koenreich in the council-at-large contest. Koenreich, one of five candidates seeking three places for the November election, is a veteran in city council. He has served as chairman of the important finance committee and has shown good judgment and leadership on other committees.

He is opposed by Albert Catlos, who is a member of the park commission and has been active in city sports circles for a number of years; William J. Mackey, an industrial plant worker; Paul M. Howard, a photographer, and Robert Campanelli, a salesman.

We especially urge Mr. Koenreich's re-nomination.

The Republican Second Ward contest is between Lee A. Gopp, owner of a shoe repair shop, and Donald C. Cannon, a grocer. This race probably will be close.

Voters Are Not Fooling

Advisers telling President Eisenhower he should go over congressional heads in the budget-cutting issue and tell the people why no cuts are possible are giving a good man a bum steer.

Congressmen went home for Easter vacations and learned that voters are not fooling about budget-cutting. The same advisers telling the President he can change people's minds were telling him a while ago the people were not even serious about budget-cutting - that it was just another routine springtime economy drive that would blow over.

Mr. Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and all others who are defending a 71.8-billion-dollar budget shakily balanced on peacetime tax rates asking a third of the people's earnings are in an indefensible position.

There never was a federal budget that could not be pared. When a budget grows to 71.8 billion it can be pruned. When the people who pay the bills grow tired of meeting them, the budget must be pruned, or the federal government will have a tax revolt on its hands.

This is a decision that already has been made by the sovereign people and now must be carried out by the White House and Congress. Budget-makers and tax-spenders are the people's servants, not their masters.

If President Eisenhower tries to go over the heads of representatives and senators who have been sampling opinion on budget-cutting at the grass roots, he will be asking for a political rebuff that could be disastrous to him and his party.

The President would be better advised to back up a plan for budget action outlined by Secretary of Treasury Humphrey last January. Referring to the then brand-new budget proposal, Secretary Humphrey said four steps should be taken:

1. To encourage the public to quit making needless demands on Washington.
2. To encourage Congress to quit appropriating needless funds.
3. To encourage spenders to quit spending money needlessly.
4. To begin to boil the fat out of federal spending so the next budget would not be so shockingly huge.

All four steps have been taken. Congratulations from the White House are called for, not a scolding. Dwight Eisenhower was elected in 1952 on a program of budget-cutting and re-elected in 1956 to give him plenty of time to keep his promise. The people are waiting.

The Hardest Blow

Dave Beck's ideas about handling money belonging to the Teamsters Union are the subject of a Senate investigation to learn whether or not new laws should be passed to protect union funds.

But there already are laws about Mr. Beck's handling of money that belongs to the U.S. Treasury in the form of taxes on income seven years ago. The true dimensions of his money troubles are about to emerge in a trial on the charge of tax fraud. The Senate's inquiry, which is in no sense a trial, will be of secondary importance now.

The prosecution in a tax-fraud trial does not need to determine the property of a man's earning power. It is concerned solely with the question of whether or not he rendered into Caesar that portion which Caesar legally can collect. Mr. Beck does not need to worry about a thing, if he kept the accounts straight in 1950 and thereafter.

But if he kept them other than straight, he is in trouble that no amount of public relations counseling or voting of confidence by the rank and file can shoo away.

Dave Beck, long untouchable, suddenly has become touchable - and there is no blow so hard as an indictment for income tax evasion.

The troubles people have lead to a lot of conversation that we would rather not hear.

Budget Apologists

By RAYMOND MOLEY

GOP Platform Promises Cited In Defending Ike

Representatives of the administration, speaking before some of the Republican regional meetings, are now defending the big Eisenhower budget by saying that all the President was trying to do in asking for his spending program was to carry out the specifications of the 1956 Republican platform.

In fact, this seems to be the word now passed out to various sympathetic commentators and others to meet the still potent public protest against an inflationary spree of spending.

Let us see what the 1956 Republican platform really said about one very important item in the President's program, federal aid for school construction. It said:

"Through the White House Conference on Education, our Republican administration initiated the most comprehensive community-state-federal attempt ever made to solve the pressing problems of primary and secondary education."

"FOUR THOUSAND communities, studying their school populations and their physical and financial resources, encouraged our Republican administration to urge a 5-year program of federal assistance in building schools to relieve a critical classroom shortage."

"The Republican party will renew its efforts to enact a program based on sound principles of need and designed to encourage state and local efforts to build more classrooms."

That statement is full of mis-statements of fact and inference. Moreover, it is inconsistent with several other items in the platform.

In the first place, it is based upon a theory which violates common sense and experience - i.e., that by giving federal money to states they can be encouraged to spend their money for the same purpose.

Already many states are lagging in their highway programs because they know Uncle Sam is on the way with a pot of money.

In the second place, it is a false statement of what the White House Conference really was and what it said.

DESPITE the fact that the conference was rigged so that the final statement of principles and findings was written by dedicated advocates of federal aid, the verdict was this:

"No state represented has a demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need in the next five years."

The 1956 platform also said: "We are unalterably opposed to unwarranted growth of centralized federal power. We shall carry forth the worthy effort of the Kestbaum Commission on Intergovernmental Affairs."

If this is true, how can the first statement be reconciled with what the task force of the Kestbaum Commission reported:

"We have not been able to find a state which cannot afford to make more money available to its schools or which is economically unable to support an adequate school program."

The Kestbaum Commission itself finally took the position that there should be no federal aid except to states with a demonstrated need, and only to such states. No specific state of that sort has been discovered.

THESE JUDGMENTS of the White House Conference and the Kestbaum Commission were made in 1955.

In that year the secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said that the backlog of "needs" was, in 1952-53, no less than 312,000 classrooms. In 1957 the secretary of that department admits that the present need has fallen to 159,000.

In other words, the shortage has declined 50 per cent by the efforts of states and local communities alone.

Therefore, it is fair to assume that without federal aid the shortage will disappear by 1960. How in this situation could any responsible Republican follow the platform and vote for a five-year program of federal aid?

There are many other contradictions in the platform which completely negate any assertion that Republican members of Congress are bound to support the Eisenhower budget.

Indeed, in the light of the platform's lack of truth and sincerity, any decent public servant is justified in ignoring it.

Better Than Expected

SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—American business did better on profits in the first three months of the year than many had expected. But the number of companies showing declining net income after taxes was clearly on the increase. And the overall gain above the year ago period was much smaller than in the two previous years.

The first 491 corporations to report first quarter profits split this way: 279 made more than a year ago and 212 made less. There were 14 companies operating at a loss, four of them railroads. This was the same total as had red ink reports a year ago.

The 491 had combined net earnings of $2,997,312. This was a gain of 7.6 per cent over the $2,783,043,406 the same 491 reported in the first three months of 1956.

The 412 industrials in the list had a combined increase of 8.5 per cent, although 174 of them showed decreased earnings.

The 36 utilities, with 13 declining, report a combined increase of 2.2 per cent, the smallest year-to-year gain for any period in several years.

The 33 railroads, with 19 on the declining side, showed a combined drop of 10.3 per cent.

A year ago American business as a whole showed a 12 per cent gain over the 1955 first quarter, which had been up a spanking 27.2 per cent over the first three months of 1954.

"During the first three months of this year American corporations declared cash dividends of more than 2 1/2 billion dollars, up 2 1/2 per cent from the 1956 quarter."

In many cases where companies reported increased earnings this year, they added that their sales had climbed even faster. Despite rising prices in many instances, operation costs, transportation and taxes had gone up even more.

Most of those reporting declines from 1956 also stress the profit pinch from higher costs.

Some fortunate companies have been able to raise prices enough, or cut production costs enough, or both, to increase their profit margins.

U. S. Lags In Reading

By EDWARD M. WAKIN

UNITED NATIONS When it comes to looking (television) and listening (radio), Americans lead the world in amusing themselves.

When it comes to reading (newspapers) and writing (books), the situation is not so clear but the figures do show an American lag.

The United Nations, which has just completed a world-wide fact-and-figure hunt, has summed up these findings in a newly published statistical yearbook.

The 39 million TV sets reported for the U.S. in July 1956 compare to 5.9 million in England, its closest competitor. Together, the yearbook estimates, that amounts to 90 per cent of the world's television sets in the early part of 1956.

At the end of 1955, Canada reported two million TV sets; Russia 820,000, and West Germany, 445,000, with the rest of the world trailing behind.

Half the world's 290 million radios were in North America at the end of 1955, the United States reporting 138 million of them. By comparison, Russia reported 25.6 million radio sets.

Broken down in relation to every 1,000 inhabitants, this meant that North America averaged 622 sets (more than one for every two persons), Europe, 190; Russia, 129; South America, 80, and Asia and Africa, 14.

In the distribution of daily newspapers per 1,000 persons, the 439 copies in the United States compared with 570 in England, 459 in Sweden, 397 in Japan, and 396 in Australia.

By way of showing that U.S. readers get more newspaper for their money, the yearbook reveals that U.S. newspapers consumed half the world's newsprint in 1955. More than 70 pounds of newsprint was consumed for each U.S. inhabitant that year.

The relation of U.S. book publishing to the rest of the world is fuzzy in the yearbook because the U.S. figures only include commercial publishers and exclude books put out by universities, churches and various branches of state, local and federal government.

The overwhelming finding, nonetheless, is the standing of Russia at the top in book publishing with 30,811 titles. Behind it are Japan, 1,653; England, 1,962; and West Germany, 15,833. The incomplete U.S. figure is 12,589.

The figures on Russia are a revealing indication of what it is emphasizing. Few Russian books were published on philosophy and religion but Russia had the most titles in pure science, 2,354; social sciences, 5,551, and applied sciences, 13,794.

The book-publishing figures cover the year 1955.

Building Boom Headache

By ALAN EMORY

A national office-building boom is giving city planners headaches.

Each new towering structure, with its high 9-to-5 population density, is increasing the jam in already overcrowded central business districts, further straining the cities' already overtaxed facilities.

The American Society of Planning Officials particularly noted New York City, Denver, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Chicago as all caught up in the building boom.

The society could have added the nation's capital, where the federal government, now putting up a new State Department building and seeking land on which to house new presidential staff offices, is joining the trend.

Don't the new buildings reflect a healthy municipal economy? Perhaps, but they're a mixed blessing in the planners' view.

For the office buildings bring need for more mass-transit facilities, for more space for traffic, for more parking space, for more just plain old-fashioned open space in municipal areas already throttled by a lack of space.

The society had some words of advice for the high-rising cities, when a building is proposed, the cities should study:

Whether the ability of the streets to carry more traffic is being considered in regulating the height and bulk of office buildings.

What amount of land is being used for office buildings in relation to the near-by housing and how many persons residing near the buildings can fill the demand for new workers.

What relationship the size of the building has to the size of the lot on which it is to be constructed. The overcrowding the buildings bring will have to be dealt with—more one-way streets, elevated expressways, staggered working hours, night deliveries and off-street public parking garages, the society said.

The office buildings are sprouting from many points on the map, the society reported. In Manhattan, space for some 290,000 additional office workers is being provided.

In Chicago's famed loop, a skyscraper will make the seventh major new office building in the area—one of them already open for business and five others under construction.

Philadelphia's office space supply has increased roughly a million square feet since 1955.

Downtown Denver, the society says, has also seen a million square feet of office space added between the end of the Korean war and 1956.

The long-standing 13-story limit on buildings in Los Angeles—imposed because of earthquake hazards—is being eased and office buildings are expected to mushroom as a result.

In a single project, started in 1956, a million square feet of office space will be added to the city's supply.

Washington has felt the impact, not only of new general office buildings with space for rent but of new structures to house the workers of organizations resident in the city or moving in.

Thus the rush to locate organizational headquarters in the capital has intensified the problem besetting other urban centers.

Religion At Work

This Could Be The Time

A good friend stopped in recently for a visit, and we got on the subject of how easy it is today, compared with only a few years ago, to travel and live in almost any part of the world.

The reason, of course, lies in the multitude of scientific inventions and discoveries, improvements in transportation and living facilities, and health protection measures that have come along during and following World War II.

Years ago the great jungles were inaccessible, and the man who ventured in did so with the knowledge that he probably never would come out.

IN MANY PLACES mountain barriers and frozen icecaps stood in the way. There was always the threat of excessive heat or cold and the danger of strange, unknown diseases. Anyone venturing into these conditions were sure to be cut off indefinitely from the outside world.

Today we have transport and cargo planes and helicopters that will operate in all types of climate and under any set of circumstances. We have temperature-control devices, even to the clothing to be worn. Preventive drugs cut off illness before it starts, and modern communications reach to and from any point on the earth.

A man can set up his portable living unit thousands of miles from civilization and live in all the comforts of home.

"YOU KNOW," my friend said, "this is the most promising time in the history of man for establishing God's Kingdom on this earth."

"Just how do you mean that?" I asked.

"Well, the Bible tells us," he answered, "that the Kingdom of God will come to this earth and men will live together in peace and harmony, when we have spread throughout the known world the story of a living God and man's personal relationship with Him."

"And the interesting thing is this: The Bible does not say we must convince all people of the truth of this story; it says only we must take the story to them."

"Now we can do this job," he continued, "We have the physical facilities and the means to do it. And I happen to believe God has made all these new things possible so we can get this job done."

"Now," he added, "it's up to us!"

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Interview By Scalpel

The Mike Wallace TV third-degree interview, heretofore limited to New York where it was a sensation, has been taken over by a national network and much of the country will now see the newest thing in quizzes, the Interview By Scalpel.

Mr. Wallace introduced to the airwaves a sort of "Inside My Guests" program. It was "Medic" without rubber gloves and with the operating table invisible. He puts a guest in a chair and conducts a cross examination combining the features of a McClellan Committee, A Poor Man's Ed Murrow, a Vigilante Posse and a hectic hour with any District Attorney.

HE IS, IN A MANNER of speaking "Drag-net" with Larry Spivak as Friday and the early Tom Dewey as Joe Smith. Mike asks his guests personal questions usually fired only in major investigations and makes it highly dramatic by creating an expectancy that he may follow up "Is it true what you have no warm friends?" with "Were you in any way connected with the Lizzie Borden axe murders?"

He gives the TV fans a "western" with nothing missing but the ponies, guns and fights at the Okay Corral. His guests may justifiably cry, "My back is to the Wallace!"

We hear one prominent Broadway actor, asked to appear on his program, replied, "Not unless I can bring my own referee and use a second platoon."

"I SHOW YOU A CLIPPING from a magazine in 1932 in which you are quoted as admitting you beat your mother," Mike is apt to begin, by way of making a guest feel cozy. And he can demand of a woman guest, "What is your truthful age and can you square this with the dates given by your worst enemy?" The amazing thing is that nobody has bopped him in mid-interview.

At times it isn't certain if he is interviewing somebody or skinning a buffalo. The audience appeal has been sensational, possibly because people are sadistic and love to see somebody dissected on a 24-inch screen.

His debut on a national network with Gloria Swanson as his subject lacked the punch of his previous routines, and there were signs Mike was under a pull. He will have to be tougher than that to keep up the idea that there is no business like "nose" business.

The most erotic dance routines ever seen in show business have been toned down in "New Girl in Town," a musical based on O'Neill's grim tragedy "Anna Christie." . . . The routines were so suggestive on the road that folks were calling the show "Anna Minsky."

Postmaster General Summerfield says the day is near when mail will be delivered with electronic speed, and "I will not be satisfied until we can deliver letters between any two American cities one day after mailing." (Then why doesn't he abolish the special delivery stamp, which is almost a guarantee the letter won't show up between 2 cities 50 miles apart in better than 48 hours?)

A mother and son stuck up a supermarket the other day and got $13,000 . . . Probably one of those women who always says, "I can get anything at those stores." . . . She probably had a shopping list which included "money" directly between "hamburger" and "dozen eggs."

A shopping center with 40 stores is to occupy the site of the once famed Royal Ponciana Hotel at Palm Beach. . . . There will probably be, shopping - carts with white walled tires. . . . (What a place to get golden - calf's liver!)

A Look Back At Baseball

By The Associated Press
Fifteen years ago today (Saturday)—Spud Chandler pitched a seven-hitter and Frank Crosetti whacked a two-run triple to lead the New York Yankees to a 6-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

10 years ago—Bobby Doerr hit a homer and a double and drove in a pair of runs as the Boston Red Sox nipped the St. Louis Browns 3-2.

5 years ago—Alpha Brazile put down a ninth inning rally and Manager Eddie Stanky scored the winning run as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Boston Braves 4-3.

ENTERS REGATTA
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio, is among nine colleges entered today in the Dad Vail (rowing) Regatta on the Schuylkill River.

The Braves' 23-year-old slugger slammed a home run, triple and double Friday night to drive in four runs in Milwaukee's 8-7 triumph over Pittsburgh and raised his batting average to .391. Only Cincinnati's Don Hoad (.396) and St. Louis' Stan Musial (.393) are higher. Aaron paced the National League hitters last year with .328.

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves said today:

"Aaron has the potential to become one of the greatest right-hand hitters baseball has ever known," last night.

It was Aaron's triple followed by Bobby Thomson's single in the 11th inning that gave the Braves their third straight overtime victory and 12th win against 2 losses.

The Braves shared the spotlight with the Chicago White Sox, who outslugged the Washington Senators 11-6 for their 11th success in 13 games and their fifth in a row.

The American League leading White Sox were paced by Larry Doby who drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a single.

This is the best early season start in White Sox history, topping a 10-3 mark in the first 13 games by the 1920 Pale Hose.

Brooklyn's second-place Dodgers remained two games behind the Braves as Don Newcombe shut out St. Louis 6-0 for his ninth straight over the Cardinals. Cincinnati defeated the New York Giants in an 11-10 slugfest with pinch hitter Pete Whisenant drilling a three-run homer to win it in the ninth.

Philadelphia won a 9-6 free-for-all from Chicago, picking up three unearned runs on five Cub errors, four by rookie second baseman Casey Wise. That tied a National League record. The major league record is five.

The Yankees remained two and a half games behind the White Sox, beating Kansas City 8-5 on three unearned runs in the seventh. Paul Foytack, aided by outfielder Al Kaline's four spectacular catches, limited Boston to four hits as Detroit shut out the Red Sox 6-0. Cold weather in Cleveland prevented the Indians and Baltimore Orioles from playing.

Pity the poor Pirates. Three times in one week they rallied in the ninth to overcome huge deficits but each time they lost in overtime. Friday night they scored three again in the ninth, but lost in the 11th. Red Murph, Milwaukee's third pitcher, was credited with the victory although Warren Spahn had to dispose of the last batter with two runners on base.

The Dodgers got Newcombe started on his 100th complete game with three first inning runs, two scoring on Carl Furillo's triple off loser Tom Cheney. Musial went hitless for the second consecutive night.

A pair of rookies—Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee—produced the power for Philadelphia. Anderson slammed a two-run inside-the-park homer and Bouchee had four hits including a home run.

A six-run Chicago third, touched off by Doby's bases-loaded double salted away Chicago's victory. Don Larsen, in relief of starter Bob Turley, won his second game. Kaline not only robbed the Red Sox of four base hits, but added three of Detroit's seven hits off loser Frank Sullivan and Bob Chakales. Frank House's three-run homer and Harvey Kuenn's two-run triple accounted for all but one of the Tigers' runs.

200 Archers To Vie In Shoot

Event Scheduled At Willow Grove Park

Over 200 archers of all ages will compete in the second annual Early Bird Field Shoot at Willow Grove Park in Lisbon Sunday, May 19.

Scheduled are a 28-target "big game" round in the morning and a 28-target field round in the afternoon. The shoot will be registered with the National Field Archers Association and 20 pins will be awarded.

Paul Kuhns, president of the Columbiana County Archery Club, said registration will begin at 8:45 a.m. and that shooters can start on targets 1 and 15 as soon as they are ready.

All male contestants aged 16 or over will be entered in the men's open division. A trophy and a medal will be awarded to first and second place winners and medals to the next eight in this division.

All female contestants aged 16 or over will be entered in the women's open division. A trophy and a medal will be awarded to first and second place winners and medals to the next four in this division.

All boys and girls under 16 years of age will be entered in the junior open division. A trophy and a medal will be awarded to first and second place winners and medals to the next three.

Anyone who can produce a bona fide NFAA handicap will also have his score entered in the handicap division. His handicap will be doubled and added to his total 56 score. A trophy and a medal will be awarded to the first place winner and medals to the next nine highest scorers. The 10 top scores of each club will be added together to make a team score. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place teams.

There will be skill, luck and novelty shots for the entertainment of those who finish early and must wait for the others to get in so that the winners can be announced.

Awards will be made to instinctive shooters only, Kuhns said, since the local club and surrounding clubs don't have "free styler" or archers who use sights on their bows.

"We feel that the only fair way is to put everybody on the same footing by shooting bare bows," he added. Standard target or field arrows may be used, but no broadheads, blunt or any tips will be permitted because they tear up targets unnecessarily, he said.

Kuhns said the shoot will go on rain or shine. A cafeteria-style lunch will be served.

Bold Ruler Still Favored

Gen. Duke's Starting Status Is In Doubt

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Ten 3-year-old colts, survivors of an original field of 133, were poised today for the mile and one-quarter of the second richest Kentucky Derby before a Churchill Downs crowd of some 100,000.

But the starting status of the 10th member of the classy field remained in doubt pending a final workout by Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke, bothered by a leg injury.

Trainer Jimmy Jones said he hoped to make a decision whether the colt will be in the starting lineup.

Jones has until 45 minutes before post time to decide whether the Duke's left front foot has healed sufficiently to permit him to join stablemate Iron Liege in the post parade.

Clear skies with a decided nip in the air and a lightning fast track were in prospect for America's No. 1 turf spectacle.

Fourteen world and track records either have been broken or equalled this year by seven of the 10 entries in races enroute to the Derby. Whirlaway holds the Derby record of 2:01 2-5 set in 1941.

If the starting fee of $1,250 is paid on all 10, the race will have a value of $153,300. The only richer Derby was last year, when it was worth $165,950 with Needles winning $123,450. This year's winner will get a net purse of $109,200 and a $5,000 gold cup.

At the end of this grueling test of speed and stamina under 126 pounds awaits all the honors befitting a champion—A blanket of red roses, the cheers of the multitude stretching for five-eighths of a mile along one side of the track and perhaps a little extra oats in his feed box tonight.

To the jockey and trainer, in line with tradition, will go 10 percent each of the winner's purse. And to the breeder there will be the immense satisfaction of knowing that his theory of bloodlines paid off.

Bold Ruler, owned by Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Wheatley stable, trained by 82-year-old Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro, remained the firm choice at 8-5. The Ruler and the Duke met four times in Florida. They split even.

Arcaro is after his sixth Derby victory, Fitzsimmons his fourth. No other jockey or trainer in the race can match their records. The only other jockeys with previous derby victories are Willie Shoemaker, who'll be astride Ralph Lowe's Texas-owned Gallant Man, and Dave Erb, down to ride Iron Liege. Shoemaker won with Swaps in 1955 and Erb with Needles last year.

Gallant Man, youngest and smallest horse in the race, is considered a serious threat of his ability to strike fast and hard in the home stretch.

The other outstanding candidates are Federal Hill, who'll likely attempt to steal a long early lead; Travis M. Kerr's Round Table; Bold Ruler and the Calumet pair.

White Sox Tangle With Yankees Today

By JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP)—The new look Go-Go White Sox, speeding to their greatest start in history, get the acid test this weekend when they tangle with the world champion New York Yankees.

The Yankees, 2½ games behind the league-leading Sox, open a three game series here today with a doubleheader scheduled Sunday.

The Sox have combined speed, excellent pitching and timely hitting to win 11 of their first 13 games and are riding a five-game winning streak.

Six years ago, the original Go-Go Sox had the baseball world goggy with their daredevil speed and fund themselves perched in first place early in June. Then came the Yankees and the Sox finished fourth that year.

The 1951 Sox, piloted by Paul Richards, stole 12 bases in their first 18 attempts. The speedballs in that era were Minnie Minoso, Jim Busby, Nellie Fox and Chico Carrasquel.

Minoso and Fox still are around. In fact, they're the teams leading hitters. Fox is batting .392 and Minoso is clipping along with a .359.

Aside from pitching, there's a new face at every other position.

In right field is rookie Jim Landis, key man to Lopez' hopped up plan to literally run the Sox to a pennant. Landis, probably the fastest man on the team, must make good otherwise Lopez will be forced to move first baseman Jim Rivera into the outfield and put the lumbering Walt Droppo back on first.

Landis already has stolen five bases and has turned a couple of singles into doubles and a double into a triple.

"Landis will make it," says a very happy Lopez.

Lopez, working his pitchers in rotation, has Jim Wilson, Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman ready for the Yankees. Casey Stengel will counter with Whitey Ford, Johnny Kucks and Bobby Shantz.

Re-Election Of McDonald Probed By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) says the Senate Rackets Committee is looking into circumstances surrounding David J. McDonald's re-election as president of the United Steelworkers Union.

Mundt said Friday the investigation by committee staff members is designed to determine whether union funds were used to finance McDonald's recent campaign for another term in the union office.

Meanwhile, the committee prepared for another session next Wednesday with Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president. In his last appearance before the investigators, Beck declined to answer questions about his handling of union funds by invoking the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination.

Beck was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury at Tacoma, Wash., on two counts of income tax evasion. Atty. Gen. Brownell said Friday night the Justice Department is ready to prosecute Beck as soon as a trial date is set. The Teamsters chief posted $5,000 bond here Friday pending an arraignment May 13.

Beck said Friday night in Atlantic City, N.J., he had "not a thing" to say about the indictment.

Beck, in Atlantic City, was quoted as telling a regional meeting of his union Friday that "if you find anyone who can do a better job than I have done, go ahead and elect him."

Later, a Teamsters spokesman said Beck mentioned nothing specific about the charges leveled against him or about his invoking the Fifth Amendment before the Senate investigating committee.

The spokesman quoted Beck as telling the regional meeting: "Every man is entitled to his day in court. Many men before have been charged to the point where everyone wanted to dump them and later these same men were acquitted."

"I merely want to be judged on what's been done for the international during my administration," After Mundt reported the committee was checking into the Steelworkers election, another

No Further Meeting Set On CEI Strike

CLEVELAND — Negotiations toward settling a strike against the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. were at a standstill today.

Peace talks between representatives of the company and the Utility Workers Union broke off Friday. No further meetings were scheduled despite a request by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

The mayor, who got both sides together after the CEI refused to send representatives to a negotiating session called by a federal mediator, asked that negotiators "think things over" and agree to meet again tomorrow.

CEI negotiators said they were willing to follow the mayor's suggestion, but Joseph A. Fisher, international president of the union, said, "there's no use kidding the public" by scheduling a resumption of the talks. He said renewed talks might suggest that there was hope of agreement.

The 2,600 members of Local 270 went on strike at midnight Tuesday, but supervisory personnel have been maintaining service to the company's 520,000 customers in a 1,700 square mile area covering Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga, Ashland and eastern Lorain counties with only minor interruptions.

Issues in dispute are wages and a union demand for elimination of the words "or desirable" from a contract clause that allows the company to make job changes which are "necessary or desirable."

In other developments Friday, Common Pleas Judge Charles W. White granted a temporary restraining order against the union, its officers and members, banning mass picketing, violence and vandalism in Cuyahoga County. CEI offered a $50,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone committing acts of vandalism disrupting service to its customers.

500 View Body Of McCarthy

Funeral Service Set In Senate Chamber

WASHINGTON — About 500 persons filed through a funeral home here Friday night to view the body of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

A folded American flag lay on a pew at the foot of the casket, which was flanked by two Marines. Some wept as they viewed the body of the controversial Wisconsin Republican who died Thursday of a liver ailment.

McCarthy's body will lie in state at the funeral home through Sunday. After a service in the Senate chamber Monday the remains will be flown to Appleton, Wis., for services and burial Tuesday.

Preceding the Senate service, a high mass will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Cathedral Monday by the Most Rev. Patrick O'Boyle, Catholic archbishop of Washington.

Mrs. McCarthy has asked that, in lieu of flowers, contributions be sent to the New York Foundling Home. It was from this home that the McCarthys adopted a little girl in January.

Most of those who visited the funeral home Friday night were elderly. The group included two senators, Thye (R-Minn) and Frear (D-Dele).

One woman repeatedly told those approaching the casket: "People were a little bit too late showing how they felt. Here we are — flags at half mast, even at the White House."

President Eisenhower designated an Assistant, J. Jack Martin, as his representative at the Senate services Monday.

Meantime, former Sen. Herman Welker, an Idaho Republican, said Friday in Boise he thinks the 1954 Senate censure of McCarthy's conduct contributed to McCarthy's death. Welker said "Joe was never physically the same" after McCarthy's censure.

Marine Lt. Col. Glenn Todd, McCarthy's commanding officer in the Pacific during World War II, said Friday night he remembers McCarthy as "a jovial Irishman and a good Marine." McCarthy was an intelligence officer.

"Joe was a good guy to us," Todd said in Los Angeles. "He did things that he couldn't have done and wasn't expected to do, particularly flying on missions. That wasn't part of his duties."

"But he flew missions, anyway, 27 in all, I believe..."

Home Demonstration Groups Will Meet LISBON — A program of "short cuts in sewing" will be presented at the meeting of the Franklin Township Home Demonstration Group Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church, Millport.

A meeting of the Elkrun Township Home Demonstration Group will be held Wednesday from 8 to 10 p.m. at the parish house, Elkton, at which time a representative will be picked to attend the state meeting in Columbus in June.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Delmar Harrold and Mrs. Ralph Moore.

3 Accused Of Burglary To Get Another Trial AKRON, Ohio — Three men accused of a $12,000 burglary at the Wahoo Bar will get another trial starting June 17. Their first trial ended Friday when the jury couldn't agree.

During the trial, Paul Carpenter, 27, of Akron and Cleveland, testified for the state that he was with the defendants in the safe-cracking job last June 17. Carpenter and two other members of the gang—John Glassner, 3, of Akron, and his brother, William, 28—have pleaded guilty and await sentence.

Standing trial were Ernest P. Foti, 44, of Akron; John Lextune, 29, of Cleveland; and Arthur La Riche, 39, of Elyria. All have police records.

SAXBE ISSUES RULING COLUMBUS, Ohio — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled Friday that a specific appropriation must be made in the General Assembly to pay compensation awards to Civil Defense workers. In an opinion to State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Saxbe said the auditor may not transfer funds from the General Fund to the Industrial Commission for this purpose.
